

Performance Enclosure for Protective Gear or Fashion.

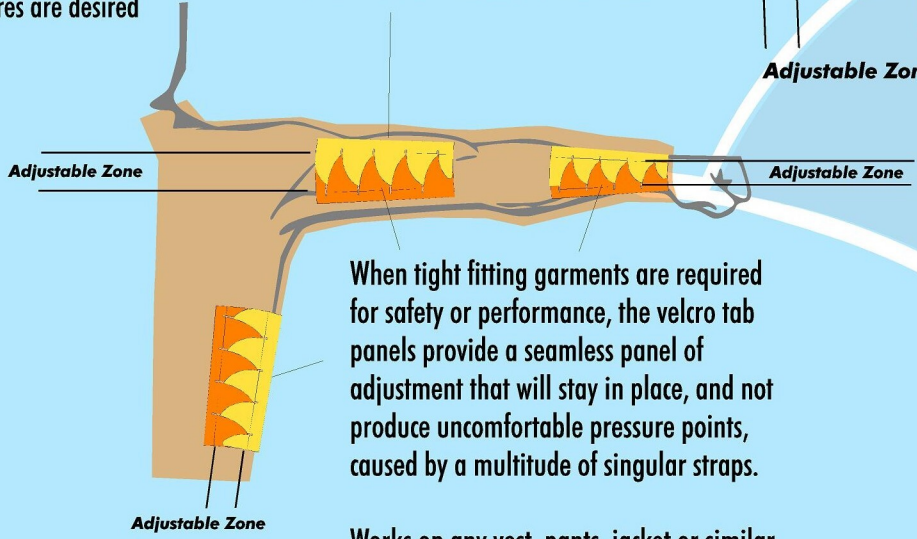

When form fitting garments are required for safety, performance, or fashion, our velcro tab panels can present a seamless ENCLOSURE that also affords adjustment. Superior to a zipper, which has no adjustment and superior to individual velcro strips that produce uncomfortable pressure points, the braided velcro panels also have the added advantage of a singular release point, eliminating unwanted failure.

-Works on any vest, pants, jacket or similar where these features are desired

Adjustable panels for Protective Gear

Adjustable Zones

When tight fitting garments are required for safety or performance, the velcro tab panels provide a seamless panel of adjustment that will stay in place, and not produce uncomfortable pressure points, caused by a multitude of singular straps.

Works on any vest, pants, jacket or similar where these features are desired.
